

MILITIAMEN MAY NOT GET VACATION

Members Report That Some Employers Dislike Giving Employees Opportunity of Attending Coming National Guard Maneuvers — Governor Condemns Selfishness — Schuman Carriage Company Will Give Vacation to Eight Employees.

Several companies of the National Guard of Hawaii may not be able to muster the required strength of thirty-eight men and two officers each to take part in the coming maneuvers and instruction work planned by Colonel Jones to start July 25 and continue for five days. Members of the different companies stationed here state that in some instances their employers are objecting to them leaving their employment for five days to take part in the instruction work. They have been told, it is said, that in the event that they do go their positions will be filled by other men.

The names of employers who have taken this unpatriotic stand are not given out. Colonel Jones and other officers of the guard hope that the reports they have received will prove groundless and that when the time comes the regiment will be able to muster practically its full strength for what promises to be the most successful outing the militiamen have yet had.

Condemned By Governor.
Governor Pinkham when told of the report yesterday was strong in his condemnation of those who would thus discourage the national guard here. There may come a time, he said, when citizens and aliens alike engaged in business here might need the protection of the citizen soldiers.

"I have had no notice or knowledge of the employers of the members of the National Guard of Hawaii opposing or objecting to such absence as may be necessary for them to attend a joint encampment with the regular troops of the United States Army," said the Governor. "It is almost inconceivable that any employer of labor should object, much less indulge in threats of discharge."

Encourages the Soldiers.
"As Governor and as a citizen I have a profound realization of our duty to the Federal Government. With millions being expended here by the Federal Government in behalf of the protection of the Islands it is a small mark of patriotism to join our local militia with the army for a few days training."

Encouraged by Schuman Company.
Ten employees of the Schuman Carriage Company are members of the national guard. One is a commissioned officer, two are non-commissioned officers and the balance are privates. All hold responsible positions with the company. S. S. Paxson, vice president and general manager of this company, yesterday announced all of these guardsmen with the exception of one will be allowed to take part in the five days' maneuvers next month. The one exception is a man in charge of a department the work in which can not be done by any other employee of the company. There is no way to secure a skilled man to take his place.

"The national guard is an organization in which all citizens, in fact everyone, here who may need their protection, should take pride," said Mr. Paxson. "We have done everything to encourage our employees who belong to this splendid organization and we will take much pleasure in granting them a five days' vacation to take part in the coming maneuvers."

It is the belief of the national guard officers that if the importance of the national guard is properly impressed upon the business men of Honolulu that those who are now opposing their employees who will ask for a vacation, will relent and that the full strength of the regiment will be mustered on July 25.

Company B Meets.
Company B held a meeting last night in preparation for the coming work. After a business session the members took an hour's instruction under Lieutenant Whitcomb of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. There was a full attendance and much interest was shown by privates and officers alike.

SEEKS MISSING SON.
Lawrence Gill, of Barbados, B. W. I., is trying to locate his son, Charles Gill. According to a letter received by Sheriff Rose yesterday, young Gill went to Kohala December 1, 1913, and left there for Hilo on January 17, 1914. It is believed that he came to Honolulu. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the young man should communicate with Sheriff Rose.

Largest Class Ever Graduated at Punahou Preparatory--An Animated Flower Garden

CLASS OF 1914 AFTER YESTERDAY'S COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Diplomas for Large Class Are Awarded at Punahou Four Hundred Witness Closing Exercises Ending Most Successful Year in History of Preparatory School.

(From Thursday Advertiser.)

Sixty-five students, the largest graduating class in the history of the Punahou Preparatory School, received diplomas at the commencement exercises in Charles B. Bishop Hall yesterday morning at nine-thirty o'clock. Over four hundred guests greeted the class as it marched into the chapel and on to the stage which had been transformed into a bower of beauty by decorators from the seventh grade. The class colors, red and white, were used very effectively in unique and attractive decoration.

Rev. Frank B. Scudler, whose daughter, Margaret, was an honor graduate, offered invocation. The program which followed was varied and well-presented and reflected credit on every student and the teacher of English, Miss Breckinridge.

Program Full of Interest.

Dudley Pratt's "First Aid to the Injured" was particularly applauded and the boy deserved the praise for in a very easy manner he applied all simple types of treatment for injuries and accidents such as drowning, fractures, abrasions and others and then calmly shouldered his bandaged patient, Henry Cooke, and carried him off the stage. The part was practical, instructive and well done.

The original story of Halekalea, "Blue Shadow," by Ernestine Taggart was cleverly developed as was also Elizabeth Hobdy's recital of her experiences during the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

Oriel Robinson sang sweetly "In Dear Hawaii" and Frances Farrington's rendering of the story of the "Old Violin" was noteworthy for the ability displayed in declamation. The story of the life of Helen Keller was interestingly told by Winifred Brown and the monologue "At the Matinee" by Kulanana McWayne was so amusingly acted that it brought down the house.

The Hawaiian Islands were brought forth for illustrating Catherine Pratt's "Some of the Indigenous Flowers of the Islands" and she was very much at ease with the subject, selecting her flowers and explaining them as she developed her topic.

Dorothea Cooke told naturally a personal experience in hearing the opera "Parsifal" and with the aid of the Victrola gave the "Processional" of that masterpiece.

Gifts From Class.

The class president, Howard Johnston, in behalf of his class presented the school with two bas-reliefs, "Washington Crossing the Delaware" and "Spirit of '76." The attractive gifts were hung in the hall and were much admired.

Principal Fitts in accepting the gifts for the school and in bidding farewell to the class congratulated the students for the selection of gifts that typified the spirit of the class which he characterized as "Ever Onward in Spirit of Difficulties."

After the award of the scholarship cup for highest honors to Florence Denison and Catherine Pratt, a reception for graduates and guests was held in the class rooms which were full of floral gifts.

Students Who Graduated.

Following is a list of the graduates who received diplomas:
Herman Hillebrand Alexander, Dorothy Marian Ashley, William Markham Borelmann, Gertrude Blake, Francis Andrew Imakalani Bowers, Winifred Lewis Brown, Edith Ellen Ball, Sybil Augusta Carter, Laura Josephine Cassiday, Helen Elizabeth Center, Anna Ngan Chung, Dorothea Alice Cooke, Henry Baldwin Cooke, Maynard Pomeroy Davison, Florence Ruth Denison, Oliver Hudleston Emerson, Frances Crane Farrington, John Fa'ala, Roland Lallana Gay, Clarence Marie G. Ford, Rev. William Montrose Graham, Elizabeth Belle Hobdy, Lucile Winifred Hoogs, Elizabeth Sophia Kulanana

APPLICATIONS FILED FOR CITIZENSHIP

Now that the November general territorial elections are approaching, many local residents who will be able to qualify as prospective American citizens are filing their petitions for naturalization.

Petitions for naturalization filed Tuesday in the office of the chief clerk of the federal court were as follows:
Manuel de Coito, machine shop foreman, born at Lago, Island of St. Michael, Azores, February 11, 1876, and whose petition will be taken up for hearing in the federal court on September 26 next. Coito's witnesses are Manuel Medeiros and Vincent Fernandes Jr.
Daniel Michael Cummins, wood worker, born at Cork, Ireland, December 20, 1882. His petition will be heard on September 26 next, the witnesses being James Vieira and Dennis Joseph Cashman.

Two declarations of intention were filed yesterday, as follows:
Herman Charles Lemmel, seaman, born at Hamburg, Germany, November 10, 1881; Benito Ilustre Inis, laborer, born at Sinait, Philippines Islands, March 19, 1891.

A COMMON ERROR

The Same Mistake Is Made by Many Honolulu People.

It's a common error
To plaster the neck back,
To rub with liniments, rheumatic joints.

If the trouble comes from the kidneys,
It's time to use Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Here is convincing proof of merit. Dr. H. Green, physician, 215 N. Nihi St., N. Yakima, Wash., says: "I have now been practicing medicine for over fifty years, and ever since Doan's Backache Kidney Pills came to my attention have prescribed them to my patients. They have never failed in any instance that I have used them; in fact, the promptness in which they overcome kidney disorders is deserving of great credit."

"For any form of kidney trouble, backache, dull pains through the loins, kidney stones and gravel, dropsy, rheumatic pains, weakness of the bladder and inability to hold the secretions, Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are the best medicine that can be used."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

THINKS KUHO IS OF NO MORE USE

Garden Island, a Former Supporter, Thinks Cupid Should Stay at Home for Good.

The Garden Islands, which speak in the name of the united Republicanism of Kauai, in its current issue editorially announces itself unequivocally opposed to the renomination of Prince Kuhio as Delegate to Congress. That publication says:

"Contrary to the judgment, wishes, advice and anticipations of some of his best friends at Honolulu, and of each of the islands—men with no other objects in view than his own good and the promotion of Hawaii's welfare at home and at Washington—Delegate Jonah Kulananiolu has personally announced himself as a candidate for reelection to congress. He intimates that he will run as a Republican, but advances no platform and makes no promises, save to say that if elected for the seventh time 'my best endeavors shall be exerted in your behalf'."

No Time for Sentiment.

"A very general and generous sentiment (entirely favorable) is aroused by any appeal that Prince Kuhio may make to the people of these islands. A feeling of extraordinary sympathy—the outgrowth, perhaps, of the unique position he holds in the community as the last of the Hawaiian allies—exists; and there is a universal desire to favor him and, if you will, yield to his peculiar, or natural, as the case may be, vanities. Thus, probably few, especially among the native Hawaiians and old timers of the white citizenship, would deny his appeal for preferment at the polls without feelings of sincere, and pardonable, regret."

Real Representative Wanted.
"During the first years of Kuhio's work in Washington he displayed a satisfactory measure of activity, fair diplomacy and considerable ability. It may be stated in this connection that he was fortunate, at that period, in having a large number of colleagues in congress who had visited Hawaii and to that additional extent felt a personal interest in the islands. Moreover, the administration itself was patriotic, friendly to the islands, while public sentiment seemed to be on the side of considerate treatment of the new baby Territory. Quite a good deal was accomplished for Hawaii then, and Delegate Kuhio and his able secretary were undoubtedly entitled to all the praise received therefor. As a testimonial of that appreciation Kuhio was returned again and again to Washington as the official representative of this Territory."

Slacking Down.

"More than two years ago friends of the Delegate observed (with deep regret, it may be truly said) that his old-time zeal and activity had materially lessened. It developed that he was in an uncertain state of health, due, it was felt by his friends, in a large measure to the rigors of the climate at Washington. However, the electors of the Islands gratified his desire to be returned to Washington for another term. The results are a matter of recent history and common notoriety."

"What is to be said of the future if Kuhio is again sent to congress? He will be able to 'brave up' and give to Hawaii the service which is of so much importance and which is becoming more difficult and problematical as the responsibilities of our great country multiply in various parts of the world? There is no guarantee that the prospect. The most ardent admirer and

Chicken Stealing Was Chong Soon's Greatest Failing

One-Armed Chinese Convicted Twenty Times in Few Years and Always for Raiding Hen Roosts.

Chong Soon, a one-armed Chinese chicken thief who was captured red-handed with a sack full of chickens in the yard of a Chinese resident at Kalihi yesterday morning at one o'clock, was sent to the county jail to complete a year's sentence imposed upon him about five months ago. Chong Soon has a police record that dates back many years. According to one of the officers at headquarters, the Chinese has a mania for stealing chickens. Over twenty convictions have been recorded against him on this charge alone during the past several years. Chong Soon was sentenced to a year's imprisonment on the reef for a recent chicken stealing escapade and was out on parole when he committed this last offense.

Chong Soon lost his arm about ten years ago by having that member shot off by an irate householder who caught him in the act of robbing his hen roost.

Sheriff Jarrett says he is seriously considering putting on an extra guard on the wall that separates the county jail and the Oahu prison. The high sheriff recently purchased some fancy poultry for his new home in the Territorial prison. With Chong Soon a near neighbor, Jarrett fears for the safety of his feathered pets.

stanchest friend of Delegate Kuhio must admit it. Is there a hope that a change may occur? Can Kuhio "come back?"

Very Doubtful.

"It might be possible, but we doubt it. Surveying the situation from every point, it seems to us that he has 'taken the count,' and that his day of usefulness in Washington is done."

For His Own Sake.

"Delegate Kuhio states himself that his health improves upon his return to Hawaii. Then, for his own sake, also, let him stop at home. Here in Hawaii he will receive the full measure of that respect and aloha which he owes to him, and will have every opportunity of serving his people and his country in a worthy manner, and in a larger degree, perhaps, than he has ever been able to do at Washington."

"No general and deep-rooted has the opinion become in the Islands that it is now imperative that he be removed from office. It is now a very doubtful that Kuhio could be elected again even if nominated. Oahu turned him down in the last election and would probably go to greater lengths this year; while the saving majorities of the outside islands would, almost without doubt, be greatly reduced. Thus, as a result of the appearance of Kuhio in the field as the party's nominee, students of the situation agree that there would be grave danger of the delegateship being lost to the Republicans altogether."

The Problem—The Answer.

"It is, therefore, a serious problem which confronts the Republican party of the Islands—one which must be handled along business lines and in a businesslike way."

"What is to be done? The ailment is recognized—what is the cure? What is Hawaii to do to save herself at Washington? How is the Republican party of Hawaii to hold the seat in congress which has been its own for so many years?"

"There has appeared in the field as a competitor in the Republican primaries for the nomination of a senator from Kauai—Hon. Chas. A. Rice; a man of marked ability, standing, vigor and possessed of the numerous other qualities so essential to success at Washington."

"The way out of the difficulty is thus made clear."

Chas. A. Rice, of Lelehu, Kauai, arrived Tuesday by the Mauna Kea, and is staying at the Hotel Woodville.

WOMAN'S STORY WINS FREEDOM

Mrs. T. S. Choy Tells How Husband Tried to Force Her to Life of Shame.

Mrs. T. S. Choy, who, with Chang Chung Hung, has been arrested by the federal authorities on a statutory offense charge, yesterday made a number of startling statements which, if substantiated, will land the husband, who is now the principal witness against her, in jail for a long year. Stoutly maintaining that she is innocent of the crime charged against her, Elizabeth Choy, who is a Chinese woman, told Commissioner George A. Davis and Assistant District Attorney J. W. Thompson that her husband in preferring the present charge against her was working out his revenge because on different occasions he had brought their men, Kuanis like Choy, to her for immoral purposes and with whom she would have nothing to do. One of the trio she beat about the face with a shoe, she said.

"The little woman stated that since she married Choy, four years ago, he has failed to support her, obliging her to support herself by going out to do honest work as a servant in various households. She claims that most of the time her husband does not work."

Choy was arrested some months ago on a charge of violating the opium laws of the United States and it is said that he worked his little game with the connivance of his wife. Whether she assisted him in this of her free will or under compulsion from her husband has not been learned.

Commissioner Davis was much impressed with the woman's story. "I'll give you a chance," said Commissioner Davis to Elizabeth, "because I admire the Chinese people a good deal, but I want to warn you to live a straight life. I believe you are more sinned against than sinning."

He passed the case of the woman up for further consideration, but ordered Marshal Holt to hold Chang Chung Hung in custody until he furnishes a bond in the sum of $500. The commissioner expects to take up the hearing within a few days again and it is believed that when he does so T. S. Choy, the complaining witness and husband of the woman, will hear something which will not be very much to his liking.

Assistant District Attorney Thompson asked permission of the commissioner to allow him to take Mrs. Choy to his office. He wanted to have a talk with the woman.

"Take her, Mr. Thompson," said Commissioner Davis, "and give her a good talking to. It will do her a lot of good and you may learn something to straighten out this muddle, which does not look good to me."

SUSPECTED BURGLAR HELD

P. Paruta, the Filipino who was captured early yesterday morning by Mounted Officer Oliveira as he was attempting to gain an entrance to the home of James Logan at Tenth avenue, Kaimuki, is still held at the police station under investigation. Paruta is suspected of being connected with a number of attempted burglaries in the peaceful Kaimuki district. He has a bad record at police headquarters, and a searching investigation is being made into his movements for the past two months.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS.

Two more divorce suits were filed in the circuit court clerk's office. Angelina de Coito sued her husband, Antonio de Coito, for divorce, on the ground of failure to support. The couple were married at the Catholic Cathedral in Honolulu, on October 21, 1910, by Reverend Father Stephen, and have two children, Margaret, aged thirteen months, and John, seven months old. The second suit filed yesterday was that of Kikuru Nakanishi against Tokuzo Nakanishi, desertion being charged.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Vincent Fernandes and R. M. Ferreira will take place at the Catholic Cathedral on Saturday night at eight o'clock. Reverend Father Stephen officiating.

WEEPS AS HE TELLS STORY OF AFFRAY

United States District Attorney McCann Under Investigation by Federal Grand Jury Reported to Have Wept as He Answered Questions of Jurors in Relation to Gun-Play in Government Building.

Witnesses who are said to know more or less about the actual occurrences which led to and developed at the McCann-McBride affray, but who have not been subpoenaed yet are: C. H. McBride, Henry Humann, Bert Bower, Lau Wah, Antonio Manuel A. E. Murphy, F. L. Davis, W. L. Ross, "Peanuts" Tony Ogden, Sidney Smith, Freeman Sylvester, Mrs. Rosa Sylvester.

(From Thursday Advertiser.)

That United States District Attorney Jeff McCann broke down completely and wept like a child during the two hours he was before the federal grand jury on Tuesday morning, in the story that was being told of the streets yesterday in connection with the investigation which the grand jury, under the direction of Alexander Lindsay Jr., special assistant to the attorney general of the United States, is now carrying on over the McCann-McBride scrap.

McCann Breaks Down.

McCann was, it is stated, closely questioned by Jurors L. Tenney Peck and John E. Galt on the incidents of the episode as well as on many things which led directly up to the fight. Altogether, it is claimed, Mr. McCann's condition while under fire was most pitiable. It is said that he is a man of an extremely nervous and hysterical temperament and that his most recent breakdown was mainly attributable to this condition.

Appraised of the fact that the story of McCann's breakdown and weeping before the grand jury, as well as his being so closely questioned by the two jurors named, had leaked out of the jury room and was already of public knowledge, the transmons on the corridor of the courtroom where the jury is holding its sessions were yesterday closed.

Five witnesses were before the jury yesterday, all of them from Hilo, as follows: Mrs. Mary Freitas, Miss Florinda Freitas, Mrs. Minnie Peters, Mrs. William R. A. Kayser and William de Rego Silva. These people were "star" witnesses for the prosecution in the case, which recently resulted in a trial of the United States against Freeman and Rosa Sylvester, of Hilo, who were charged with a criminal conspiracy. Mr. McCann, as district attorney, prosecuted the case for the government.

The jury met at ten o'clock yesterday morning and closed for the day at noon. The investigation will be continued this morning at ten o'clock, a number of witnesses being already on hand to give their evidence. The witnesses already subpoenaed, but who have not appeared yet before the grand jury are: Oliver P. Soares, Augusto Pereira, Mrs. Lizzie Soares, William R. Chilton Sr., Marshal Harry H. Holt, J. W. Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Thompson, Mrs. E. A. Cooper, Manuel da Costa and William P. Fennell, Eddie Boyd, and an old Portuguese man whose name is not known.

The latter is said to have been the man who grabbed the revolver which McCann pulled during the fight, the man gripping the weapon by the barrel. Humann and "Peanuts" are said to have held McCann's arm. After the old Portuguese wrested the gun from McCann, Humann got it from the Portuguese and in the race from the federal court building to the police station it is said that Humann and "Peanuts" alternated in getting the gun away from each other.

Humann is said, according to the latest story on the subject, to have been wounded on the hand through the falling of the trigger of the revolver when he drew the gun away from the old Portuguese.

It was the opinion of many people yesterday that every man, woman and child who knows anything at all about the McCann-McBride fight, will eventually be summoned to tell the federal grand jury all they know on the subject. While it was believed a few days ago that the grand jury would probably be able to finish the investigation during the present week, indications now seem to point to at least a two weeks' undertaking.

ACCUSED BURGLARS BEING INVESTIGATED

Guy Roff and Max Tennant, who were captured at an early hour yesterday morning by Wong Sing and Officer Hooper after breaking into the New York store at King and Maunaloa streets, had their cases continued yesterday in a police court until this morning. A full investigation of the case is being held and an effort will be made to connect the young men with a series of similar burglaries recently committed in the business section of the city.
